

Pulsed Electromagnetic Field (PEMF) Therapy

▶ Charging the Cellular Battery: PEMF helps the cells to recharge themselves and helps them build resilience in order to hold a healthy energetic state even under stressful circumstances.

▶ Increases Oxygen Delivery: PEMF provides the magnetic field needed for the expansion and contraction of cells, allowing for improved circulation and oxygen delivery to cells of the body for improved energy and healing.

▶ Improves Nutrient Delivery: PEMF enhances the cells ability to uptake nutrients and excrete wastes. This improves cellular energy production and detoxification and supports improved healing processes.

PEMF generates energy at the cellular level without invasive procedures. This amplification of natural energy encourages the body to function more effectively for overall wellness.

PEMF capitalizes on the body's intelligence and incredible self-healing capabilities, encouraging the cells with natural energy to perform their many functions better.

Your PEMF sessions enhance mitochondrial function.
